Summer Events

Please see details of dates and times of our annual summer events on page 12. We do hope you will be able to come along. A great deal of hard work goes into the organisation and preparation of these events and could not go ahead without the help and co-operation of all those involved. So a big thank you to the Clerk, the Leisure Committee, Fairford Leys Centre staff and of course our Maintenance team. Thanks also to Emily Ladyman for organising the dog show, to Dan Blaze for his part in Music in the Square and the Allotment competition judges for this year.

Annual Meeting of the Council

At the Annual Meeting of the Council in May, Councillor Andrew Cole was re-elected as Chairman for the next year and Councillor Sally Pattinson as Vice Chairman.

New Councillor

The council welcomes a new co-opted councillor - Sarah James. See Sara's introduction on page 3 we look forward to working with Sarah.

Land Adoption and Riverine Corridor

We still await formal land adoption by AVDC with a discussion on transfer to the parish council. Please see the parish council minutes for further information on the land transfer.

Floral Displays across Fairford Leys

We are saddened to hear that some people have been picking the flowers from various parts of Fairford Leys and have also been encouraging their children to pick them. Whilst this may seem acceptable to some people, we cannot allow this to continue. If everyone picked the flowers there would be none left. A great deal of time and effort goes into the maintenance of the floral schemes and we hope that people will stop picking the flowers. Some have also been deliberately damaged. If you see either of these happening, can you please provide any evidence and report this to the parish council. It is an offence to pick flowers from parks, or other land, managed and maintained by the local authority.

Planning Permission / Ernest Cook Trust Covenant Permission

We remind people, again, about ensuring you have the correct planning, Ernest Cook Trust Covenant Permission (or both).

Several people, and their solicitors, have contacted the clerk in the last few months in respect of Ernest Cook Covenants not being granted, which has affected the process of selling their properties. This can cause some delay, not to mention the stress and frustration, for some residents as it delays the process of selling/purchasing property.

Whilst the Parish Clerk has authority to make decisions on retrospective applications for property alterations and changes that fall within the Ernest Cook Trust Development Guidelines for Fairford Leys, any that do not adhere to the guidelines have to be referred to the parish council at their next scheduled meeting for a decision. This can delay matters even further especially if permission is not granted for alterations that have already been carried out without covenant approval/permission.

The Parish Clerk continues to deal with these matters and is successful in helping many residents. It clearly shows that residents need to ensure that they have the correct permissions for alterations to their properties whether that is planning permission and/or Ernest Cook Trust Covenant permission granted by the parish council.

Please do not leave this to the last minute, or ignore it. If you do, it will just cause problems for you in the future

Grounds Maintenance Update

The winter baskets are now coming to an end, the new summer bedding has been ordered and will be arriving at the end of May. We will also start to remove daffodil stems from around the village.

The yearly ROSPA report works have now been completed and all the play parks are in good order. If you see anything of concern to you, please report it to the parish council at the Fairford Leys Centre. Tel 01296 422800.

Sadly we are not without the occasional bouts of vandalism or theft. Some of you will have noticed the recent damage done to the planters outside the fish and chip shop. We are liaising with the management company who are responsible for the CCTV cameras and have reported this to the police.

The team have been busy grass cutting around the village and keeping the parks tidy. They have also been weed spraying all the main roads and will continue on foot with knapsack sprayers when the weather permits

Some new residents may not know that we have an allotment site just at the end of Chelsea Road. Anyone wishing to take on a plot can register with the parish council at the Fairford Leys Centre.

Finally if you see anything in the village that you feel that we could help with, please do not hesitate to contact either me or Gareth at the centre.

Steve Webb
Senior Grounds Maintenance Officer

Meet your New Councillor Sarah James

Born and bred in Aylesbury, I have always been passionate about the town and ensuring that the community I live in is safe, friendly and inclusive.

I attended Bearbrook school, and then on to Sir Henry Floyd, leaving there in the early 90's. During this time I worked at the local shop and at Texas (now Homebase) on Broadfields. Before that though I worked in the old underground market selling glass ornaments opposite the formidable Mrs Morrison's electrical shop & Martin's shoe repairs.

My first full time job was at New Street Motors (now a block of flats!) before moving into the financial services industry working for Nationwide and Halifax, and now I have best job ever working for Lloyds with Small and Medium size enterprises in Bedford & Stevenage, supporting commercial clients with their business needs and helping them fulfil their dreams.

My husband and I have been married for 11 years and we have two daughters aged 9 & 6.

In 2016 I was elected to be a parent governor of Waddesdon Village Primary School and this is something that I really enjoy and would advocate other people to do this, either as a parent or co-opted governor as your support is invaluable and you learn a lot about the education system as well as skills you can use in everyday work and life.

Before moving to Fairford Leys last year, we lived on Haydon Hill where I was a committee member for many years. This involved supporting the organisation of events for the community such as litter picks, community gardening, tree planting, OAP lunches and children's Christmas parties. I also organised several street parties for jubilees, weddings, annual fireworks and annual summer BBQ's. I found this role very rewarding and felt I was giving something back to the community and helping my estate become a better place to live.

I believe it is important for everyone to live in a clean and safe environment, and I encourage our children to take pride in where they live. I think it is important that we know our neighbours and actively engage with them on a frequent basis. When you can smile and acknowledge people on your doorsteps and surrounding community, it makes you feel better!

Whilst serving as a local councillor, I will be there to help represent your views to the parish council. I like to add value in whatever I do, and I am committed to lending my support where I can benefit others with my expertise and desire.

Cllr. Sarah James

From Your Chairman

I can't believe a year has gone so quickly and we are looking forward to the summer events. As we start planning the next few months there is a lot of organising behind the scenes to be done. Fair in the Square and the Fairford Leys Dog Show return on Saturday the 8th July with the Allotment competition judging being carried out on the 24th June.

Music in the Square returns and is moved to September 9th, and will feature all the great live music, prizes, competitions, food and bar. My thanks go to all those who work behind the scenes to make these community events run so smoothly and really do make Fairford Leys a great place to live.

You have probably seen that HS2 received Royal Assent which brings it a step closer to being built. The council as always will continue to fight for mitigation and to make sure there is as minimal disruption to the village as possible.

Don't forget the Parish Council meets every first Thursday of the month at 8pm (excluding August). The meetings are open to the public and are a great way to find out what is going on where you live. It is also your chance to ask questions of the parish council.

Cllr Andrew Cole
Chairman of Coldharbour Parish Council

A Summary of the Annual Report of Coldharbour Parish Council April 2017

"It has been another busy but productive year for the Parish Council and I would like to start by thanking Councillors for their continued support and hard work behind the scenes."

Aylesbury Town Council Mayor Making

In May I was delighted to be able to represent the parish at the annual Mayor Making event in Aylesbury; this is a chance to meet other community leaders and champion Fairford Leys.

Music in the Square

June saw the return of this popular event with four local bands playing on stage and raising over £1000 for Bucks Play Association who were the chosen charity last year.

Fair in the Square and the Village Dog Show

Both these regular events were very busy; the fair went with its usual swing and some categories in the dog show had over 20 entrants.

Remembrance Sunday

Our annual Service of Remembrance was also well attended with wreaths being laid from many local groups within our community. I also attended the Mayors remembrance service bringing communities together to pay our respects and remember those who have given the greatest sacrifice in service of their country.

Christmas in the Square

Despite the weather, this popular event was as magical as ever. The addition of local stalls and the return of the reindeer made it even more special for children young and old. My thanks go to Father Christmas for taking time out of his busy schedule to see so many children who were not put off by the wet stuff.

Parish Matters

Throughout the year, I have continued to bring issues to AVDC and Bucks CC not just as a District Councillor but also as Chairman of the Parish. These have included reporting overgrown foliage, potholes, uneven pavements and lampposts. I have also been quite forceful with regards to the land transfer of the Riverine Corridor, in June I brought the issue in front of the Environment and Living Scrutiny committee where I questioned officers directly as to moving this forward. Despite assurances that this would be achieved by December we seemed to have moved no further forward. At the December council meeting I asked that a meeting be set with all concerned stakeholders to find out what was delaying the process and what could be done to finally get the land transfer process moving. Although there has been a further delay I am confident that the land transfer is imminent and hopefully the rolling transfer will be quite quick.

Care homes

I have continued to hold regular meetings with Benjamin UK with regards to the two care homes in the village. Whilst the engagement has had some success including an art exhibition of some of the young people's art at the Fairford Leys Centre in October which was attended by the Mayor and the Chairman of AVDC. Whilst we have seen a reduction in incidents at the homes, there are some issues that still need to be tackled and this is an ongoing piece of work.

HS2 We have also seen HS2 start their surveys and this Bill has now received Royal Assent. The council will continue to question and push HS2 at every turn to ensure a minimal impact on the village during construction and its operation.

Village Maintenance Our maintenance team continue to keep the village looking its best despite being hampered by rubbish being blown around from bins and thrown along roadsides. The village comes alive in spring and again it is our maintenance team who are constantly working to make sure we have such a wonderful place to live. My thanks go to Steve and the team for what can seem to be an endless task.

Steve and the team will also be involved with the land transfer hand over making sure that we are happy with the condition of the riverine before accepting the transfer. There are many things that our maintenance team do behind the scenes such as gritting some of the roads around the village, grass cutting, emptying dog bins and setting up and taking down of our village events. We are very lucky to have such an experienced and dedicated team.

Special thanks

Firstly I would like to personally thank Cllr Eastwood who stepped down earlier this year for all her hard work and organising skills which will be truly missed.

Throughout the year, the Council have many decisions to make some are harder than others and a lot of them have legal implications. We are guided as always by our Clerk who not only advises us but also works with residents to help them with various issues and advise where possible. I would like to thank the Clerk for his support and counsel through the last year which has been invaluable.

Looking forward it is another busy year ahead as we hopefully start the land transfer as well as organising our regular events. I would like to welcome our new member Cllr James to the Council and once again thank the Council for their work and support through the last year.

Cllr Andrew Cole
Chairman of Coldharbour Parish Council

Fairford Leys WI

Fairford Leys WI has been busy in the last few months since Christmas. We had a social evening in February which had a French theme, we decorated the community centre in the colours of the French flag and some of us dressed up. The food was very French too and very delicious.

In March we had speaker and she brought her dog along too. Dinah Latham is a retired nurse and when she gave up work she could finally have a dog after wanting one for a very long time. Her talk was about stories of her nursing career and her dog walks, she was very interesting and funny.

April's meeting was a talk presented by Jess Hiles and Jo Almond. Jess has had to go through life with a disability and her talk was about her journey; a truly inspiring young lady.

A lot of our members including myself went up to Alexandra Palace at the beginning of April for a WI craft fair. It was a great day and we were all inspired to get more crafty.

We do have a craft club that runs towards the end of each month and we've done some lovely crafts. Before Christmas we made our Christmas cards. We did door wreaths and table decorations and this year so far we've done quilting and made fudge, although how much of that is made it home I don't know. We have Jewellery making lined up for the next club. We also have a book club. At each of the clubs there is always a lot of chatting and usually some cake.

There is a lot to look forward to in the coming months with the Fair in the Square in July and also a McMillan Coffee morning on 29th September where all the cakes are made by our own fair hands. The last couple of years we've raised a huge amount of money for McMillan so please come along again and support us.

If you want to come along and see what we do at your local WI you would be very welcome. Our meetings are on the third Thursday of every month at the community centre.

FORTHCOMING EVENTS DATES FOR YOUR DIARY

Allotment Competition - Saturday 24th June

This competition is for all allotment holders at Fairford Leys. The three judges including the winners from last year will visit the plots on 24th June and 1st 2nd and 3rd prizes will be presented at Fair in the Square. So just time to put in a little extra effort and make your allotment the star of the show.

Fair in the Square – Saturday 8th July 1pm to 6pm

THE big event of the year! The council work hard to ensure that this event is as popular as ever. The carousel and ferris wheel will both be there as usual as well as some new additions to the rides. Many and various stall holders have agreed to come along and together with ice-cream, burgers, afternoon teas and a fully licenced bar the stage looks set for a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon for all the family. See front cover.

Fairford Leys Dog Show – Saturday 8th July at 2pm

Emily Ladyman has kindly agreed to organize the Fairford Leys Dog show again this year. This runs alongside the Fair in the Square, starting at 2pm in the main play area. See page 11 for details of how to enter. All prize winners will be entered into the Best in Show competition to be judged in the square by Keith Gray, Clerk to the Council, and prizes presented by the Chairman of the Parish Council.

Karibuni Children's Fun Day - Saturday 17th June from 11am to 4pm

Karibuni Children will be holding their annual Family Fun Day at the Fairford Leys Centre on 17th June and The High Sheriff of Buckinghamshire will be joining us to open the day's festivities. There will be a BBQ, music, stalls and fun and games for all the family. The Ellesborough Silver Band will be returning to play during the afternoon too and there'll be Circus and Magic workshops, afternoon teas, a bouncy castle and much more!

Last year we raised over £1,500 and this year is set to be bigger and better!

All profits go to Karibuni Children, a Stoke Mandeville based charity which supports children on the streets and in the slums of Kenya. We help to run 14 projects in the country, including children's homes and schools. They all help children and their families from the poorest communities remain in education, supplied with much needed basics and into employment or further education. For more information go to www.karibuni.org.uk or find us on Facebook.

Kandeez Dance Show - Sunday 25th June

150 pupils from Kandeez Dance, aged between three and adult, will be taking to the stage at The Waterside Theatre in Aylesbury for their first Summer Show, 'Blank Canvas.'

Following on from their third sell-out Christmas Show, Kandeez Principal and former Fairford Leys resident, Michelle Bradford, needed to find a bigger venue. 'We've been lucky enough to sell out all our previous Christmas Shows, resulting in waiting lists for tickets! I knew this year we'd have to aim higher and what better venue than the amazing Waterside Theatre? Our dancers are incredibly excited to have been given this opportunity, not only to perform at a professional theatre but also to be able to share the experience with their family and friends. We are all working very hard at the moment to ensure our show is the best it can be!'

Kandeez Dance is celebrating its 13th anniversary year and currently has almost 300 pupils on its books. When asked what makes for a successful business, Michelle said, 'In my experience, a genuine love of what you do, knowledge of your industry, embracing change, having a good team around you, networking, gratitude and sheer hard work!'

You can purchase tickets for 'Blank Canvas' by visiting the Box Office at The Waterside Theatre or purchasing online at <http://www.atgtickets.com/shows/kandeez-dance-presents-blank-canvas/aylesbury-waterside-theatre/>

Headway identifies six key issues facing brain injury survivors

Brain injury survivors are hit by social isolation, face difficulty initiating and maintaining relationships, and have problems securing or holding down jobs, even if they are capable of doing them.

These are some of the key issues identified by experts at Headway Aylesbury Vale, a charity helping people face up to life after suffering an Acquired Brain Injury (ABI).

Now Headway is urging more survivors from the local area to come forward and seek assistance, rather than 'suffer in silence' alone.

The organisation based in Wedgewood Street, Fairford Leys, Aylesbury, has listed six main outcomes of ABI, which can be caused by an injury, illness or accident.

Trustee Nikki Ounsworth, a partner in an organisation that provides case management services for people who have experienced catastrophic injury, explained: "We know there are some 1500 survivors of Acquired Brain Injury in the Aylesbury Vale area alone, and yet only a small number of them come to our sessions at Fairford Leys. This is frustrating for us because we know we can do so much, in so many ways, to help people face up to the common difficulties this condition brings.

"That's why we have listed six key issues resulting from ABI because we hope people will read this, identify with the problems and then contact us to see what we can offer them."

These six issues faced by survivors of Acquired Brain Injury are:

- Social and physical isolation as a result of behavioural, cognitive and communication changes. They often do not feel connected to society in the manner they enjoyed previously, including previous friendships, family members and employment circles.
- Lack of employability and financial hardship.
- Loss of identity from who they were before.
- Relationship break-downs and inability to form and retain new relationships.
- Lack of access to the community due to restricted mobility and support with other impairments which enables them to interact with people in their community, e.g. communication difficulties.
- Increased risk of exploitation and neglect – hidden impairments leaving them at increased risk of being taken advantage of and/or even neglected.

Mrs Ounsworth added: "The brain injury survivors who do come to Headway Aylesbury Vale can testify to the very real difference we make to their lives and to the lives of their carers, so I hope others will at least try us out when they see they are not alone in the problems they are facing."

Chairman of Trustees Phil Simmons said:

"In April, Headway Aylesbury Vale was featured on BBC TV South News specifically focussing on its music therapy sessions and benefits; followed on the 10th May on daytime ITV where an ABI survivor was talking about his issue and how weekly visits to Headway 'had been brilliant in helping him with his issues'.

"This was followed by the healthcare professional saying they had 'numerous mentions of the fantastic work Headway did in this area helping with the cognitive processes'. This all goes to show the benefits to ABI survivors of connecting to Headway, so I do hope more people will try out our services."

Headway currently opens two days a week, Mondays and Wednesdays, behind the Co-Op in Wedgewood Street, offering therapy, information and meaningful social activities. The charity also offers art and music sessions.

Jonathan Page play Centre

AFTER SCHOOL CLUB & HOLIDAY PLAYSCHMES

The last few months have been very busy here at the Jonathan Page Play Centre on Meadowcroft, which is attended by children from all over Aylesbury and surrounding areas.

We made presents for our Mums to celebrate Mother's Day, we also learnt about space and had the opportunity to see and touch a real meteorite. Another week we iced biscuits, made pizza bread and jam tarts. There is always something exciting going on during After School Club and Holiday Playschemes.

During the Easter Playscheme we made Easter garlands and egg wreaths, decorated Easter biscuits and played lots of games including "Stuck in the Mud", a Bunny Hop race and lots more. We also had a visit from Aylesbury's Town Mayor, Cllr Barbara Russel who judged our Easter bonnet competition. We each made our own Easter bonnet and the Mayor had to choose a winner, which wasn't an easy task as all of them were beautiful.

The team are already planning a fantastic programme of activities for the Summer Playscheme as it is not long to go until the summer holidays.

Each week has a different topic, so no matter if your child wants to come for only one day, a week or for the whole holidays, there will always be something different to do each time.

In addition to all the planned activities and the many toys and games we have the children can also enjoy our secure outdoor area, which includes climbing frames for different age groups, a go-kart track, multi-use games area and outdoor learning lodge.

Here is what is planned each week:

- 24 July – Patterns
- 31 July – Under the sea
- 7 August – Cooking week
- 14 August – Active week
- 21 August – Rainbow week
- 29 August – Feelings and emotions

To book sessions please visit our website www.aylesburytowncouncil.gov.uk/jppc or visit our Facebook page @jppplaycentre and click on the book online button.

If you would like to see our facilities and meet the team before you book please contact us on 01296 336413 and we will be happy to show you around the Jonathan Page Play Centre.

Here is the latest neighbourhood update from your Aylesbury West Police Team, covering Fairford Leys, Prebendal Farm, Haydon Hill, Quarrendon and Meadowcroft.

The team consists of Inspector James Davies, Sgt Dave Kuttner, PC Sharon Cann, PC Darren Pennerly, PC Mandy Cutler, PC Sam Higginson PCSO Rose Paton, PCSO Gemma Warner, PCSO Holly Newal and PCSO Hannah Ransome.

Message from Inspector James Davies

I do not normally provide an update for these newsletters but I thought it pertinent to do so due to the forthcoming changes to Thames Valley Police and your local police area.

On the 1st June Thames Valley Police will be introducing a new operating model to help us better meet the needs of the public we serve. Within the new structure Aylesbury Vale Local Police Area will be centred around three core areas of business: response, investigation and neighbourhood policing. The new structure has been designed to give the flexibility to better prioritise the way we respond to crime, ensuring that we can effectively and efficiently target our resources at the areas of greatest need at any specific time. Under the new structure, local neighbourhood officers will continue to focus on working within the community identifying issues, problem solving and preventing crime.

To aide consistency I will be taking over the management of the neighbourhood police teams across the whole of the Vale while Inspector Chris Young from the rural neighbourhood team will move to take over newly formed Problem Solving Teams.

I look forward to leading my staff to provide a visible neighbourhood police team who engage locally to address problems in conjunction with the local community.

James Davies
Neighbourhood Policing Inspector, Aylesbury Vale Local Police Area

After numerous calls in regards to drug dealing and drug taking, the team completed an operation in and around Whitehill Park last week. The operation was a great success and enabled us to get to know some of the local residents within the area. We would like to thank the local residents for assisting us where needed and their support throughout the operation.

Volunteers required

Thames Valley Police are currently looking for cadet leaders within the Aylesbury area. A two day training course will be given to those interested and you would be working alongside other volunteers with experience. The Cadets are aged approximately between 13-18 years old. Cadet's days are on a Monday between the hours of 6.00pm and 8.00pm and are held at the Aylesbury Police Station. If you are interested please contact 101 and ask for one of the cadet leaders to contact you.

Are you having problems with a neighbour?

Follow these simple steps to see if the situation can be resolved.

Neighbour disputes – What to do

1) Talk to your neighbour: Before making a formal complaint or getting others involved, try to discuss the problem with your neighbour. If you're worried about approaching them, write a letter, explaining the problem clearly and sticking to the facts. If the problem affects other neighbours, involve them as well. It can be easier to settle a dispute if the complaint comes from a number of people. A tenants' association might help if you're a member of one.

2) Contact your neighbour's Landlord: If your neighbour is a tenant, you can complain to their landlord. This could be a housing association, the council or a private landlord.

3) Use a Mediation Service: Mediation is when an impartial person - trained in dealing with difficult discussions between 2 opposing sides - acts like a referee in a dispute. There can be a fee for mediation, but this will still be cheaper than hiring a solicitor and taking legal action. The Citizens Advice Bureau is a good place to start.

4) Noise and environmental health complaints should be made to the council:

This could include -

- noise (including loud music and barking dogs)
- artificial light (except street lamps)
- dust, steam, smell or insects from business premises
- smoke, fumes or gases
- a build-up of rubbish that could harm health

5) High hedges, trees and boundaries:

You must try to settle a dispute about a high hedge informally (as above) before the council can intervene. Ask your council for a complaint form if the hedge is all of these:

- Two or more mostly evergreen or semi-evergreen trees or
- Shrubs over 2metres tall affecting your enjoyment of your home or garden because it's/they're too tall.

You might have to pay the council a fee to consider your complaint.

Disputes about what is the exact boundary between 2 properties can be difficult to solve, therefore it may be beneficial for all parties to get a copy of their title plan from land registry (a small charge is made) and read them all together.

You must give notice to your neighbour if you are going to do work on a shared ("party") wall. The Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) has free advice on boundary disputes and party walls (the walls you share with your neighbours).

6) Parking:

Unless there are local parking restrictions giving a right to a particular space, residents do not have automatic rights to a parking space on a public road. However, they do have a right of access to their drive. If there is a shared drive, then each person has a right of access and neither should block the drive.

7) Call the Police:

All the above should be utilised before involving the police. If however, a criminal offence has occurred the police will investigate. This will not necessarily mean that the dispute will be resolved; in most cases mediation is the best way forward.

Contact us

If you would like any advice or would like to contact the neighbourhood teams you can call us on the police non-emergency number 101 or email the following:

If you don't want to speak directly to the police you can contact the independent charity Crime stoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 or online at crimestoppers-uk.org.
